

Keep On Keepin' On

Surviving a disaster and serving the post-disaster community

Presented locally by

Your organization can play an important role in the wake of a disaster! Through discussion and exercises based on a realistic scenario, this workshop will prepare your organization to survive and thrive in the post-disaster community. You will learn to:

- Anticipate and meet survivors' critical needs
- Strategically share scarce resources
- Collaborate in new ways to help your community recover
- Harness the power of local individuals and volunteer teams willing to assist

Who should attend: County human services organizations of all kinds; representatives of faith-based, education, government, civic, fraternal, and other community organizations; and groups that serve animals and their humans are all encouraged to participate!

Tuesday, March 16, 2010 • 8:30 am – 3:30 pm

Olive Baptist Church, Passmore Hall
1836 Olive Road, Pensacola, Florida 32514

The Keep On Keepin' On workshop is free, but registration by March 8th is required.

To register for the workshop, visit https://www.regonline.com/keep_on_keepin_on_escambia_santa_rosa_counties

Seating is limited, so please register early. Participant check-in begins at 8:30 am and the workshop starts promptly at 9 am. A complimentary continental breakfast and box lunch will be provided.

Don't miss this chance to move your organization to the next level of disaster preparedness!

Sponsored locally by

